Tour guide

Are you stressed? Does the world just make you feel like you just want to run away and find a new place to live where you get to relax and unwind? Well, I will help you discover that special place for you. I'm (host's name) and I will be your travel agent in a special segment I like to call the game tourist. Today we will discuss a location you might already know and love as an adult and a kid: The Mushroom Kingdom.

(it goes to a video of wide pans of the mushroom kingdom)

Tour Guide (as a narration)

If you have had any Nintendo console, you would know of the nice, scenic land of the mushroom kingdom. There you can marvel at the cutesy town, enjoy the calm environment of the fields around it and get to meet the sweet citizens of the area like Princess Peach, Toadsworth, and the former plumbers turned heroes, Mario and Luigi Mario.

Now, I know what most of you might be saying, "But, what about that dragon turtle that keeps attacking the city, stealing the princess, and threatening the town? Why would I want to live some place like that?" Well you see, 1. Dragon turtles don't exist. They are just a rumor about the town and 2. Even if there was, then Mario and Luigi would handle the problem easily. With that out of the way, lets talk about some events that occur in the town.

(Starts to show a montage of games like Mario kart, Mario party, and other Mario Sports games)

Tour guide (as a narration)

While this town may seem too slow, it is much more active with the many events that occur in the area. These events range from racing, baseball, soccer, or tennis but, if sports aren't your thing, there is the yearly parties. Every year, the mushroom kingdom comes together to see who can become the superstar by play a collection of minigames that are both challenging and fun. See? Even Bowser, who clearly isn't a dragon turtle, is having fun! One of the most famous events though are the fighting tournaments. In these combatants come from locations like Hyrule, Planet Popstar and Onett to battle it out to show who is top dog.

So, if you would like to have an exciting time here in the mushroom kingdom, then you can (their cellphone rings) Hold on for a second folks. (to the person on the phone) Hello? What Bowser kidnapped Princess Peach again!? This is a terrible time to inform me about this!! Ill talk to you later about it. (they hang up and look back at the camera) I'm sorry about that folks, but it seem I am going to have to cut this episode short. So, I'm your tour guide (their name) and I will help you level up your travel locations.
